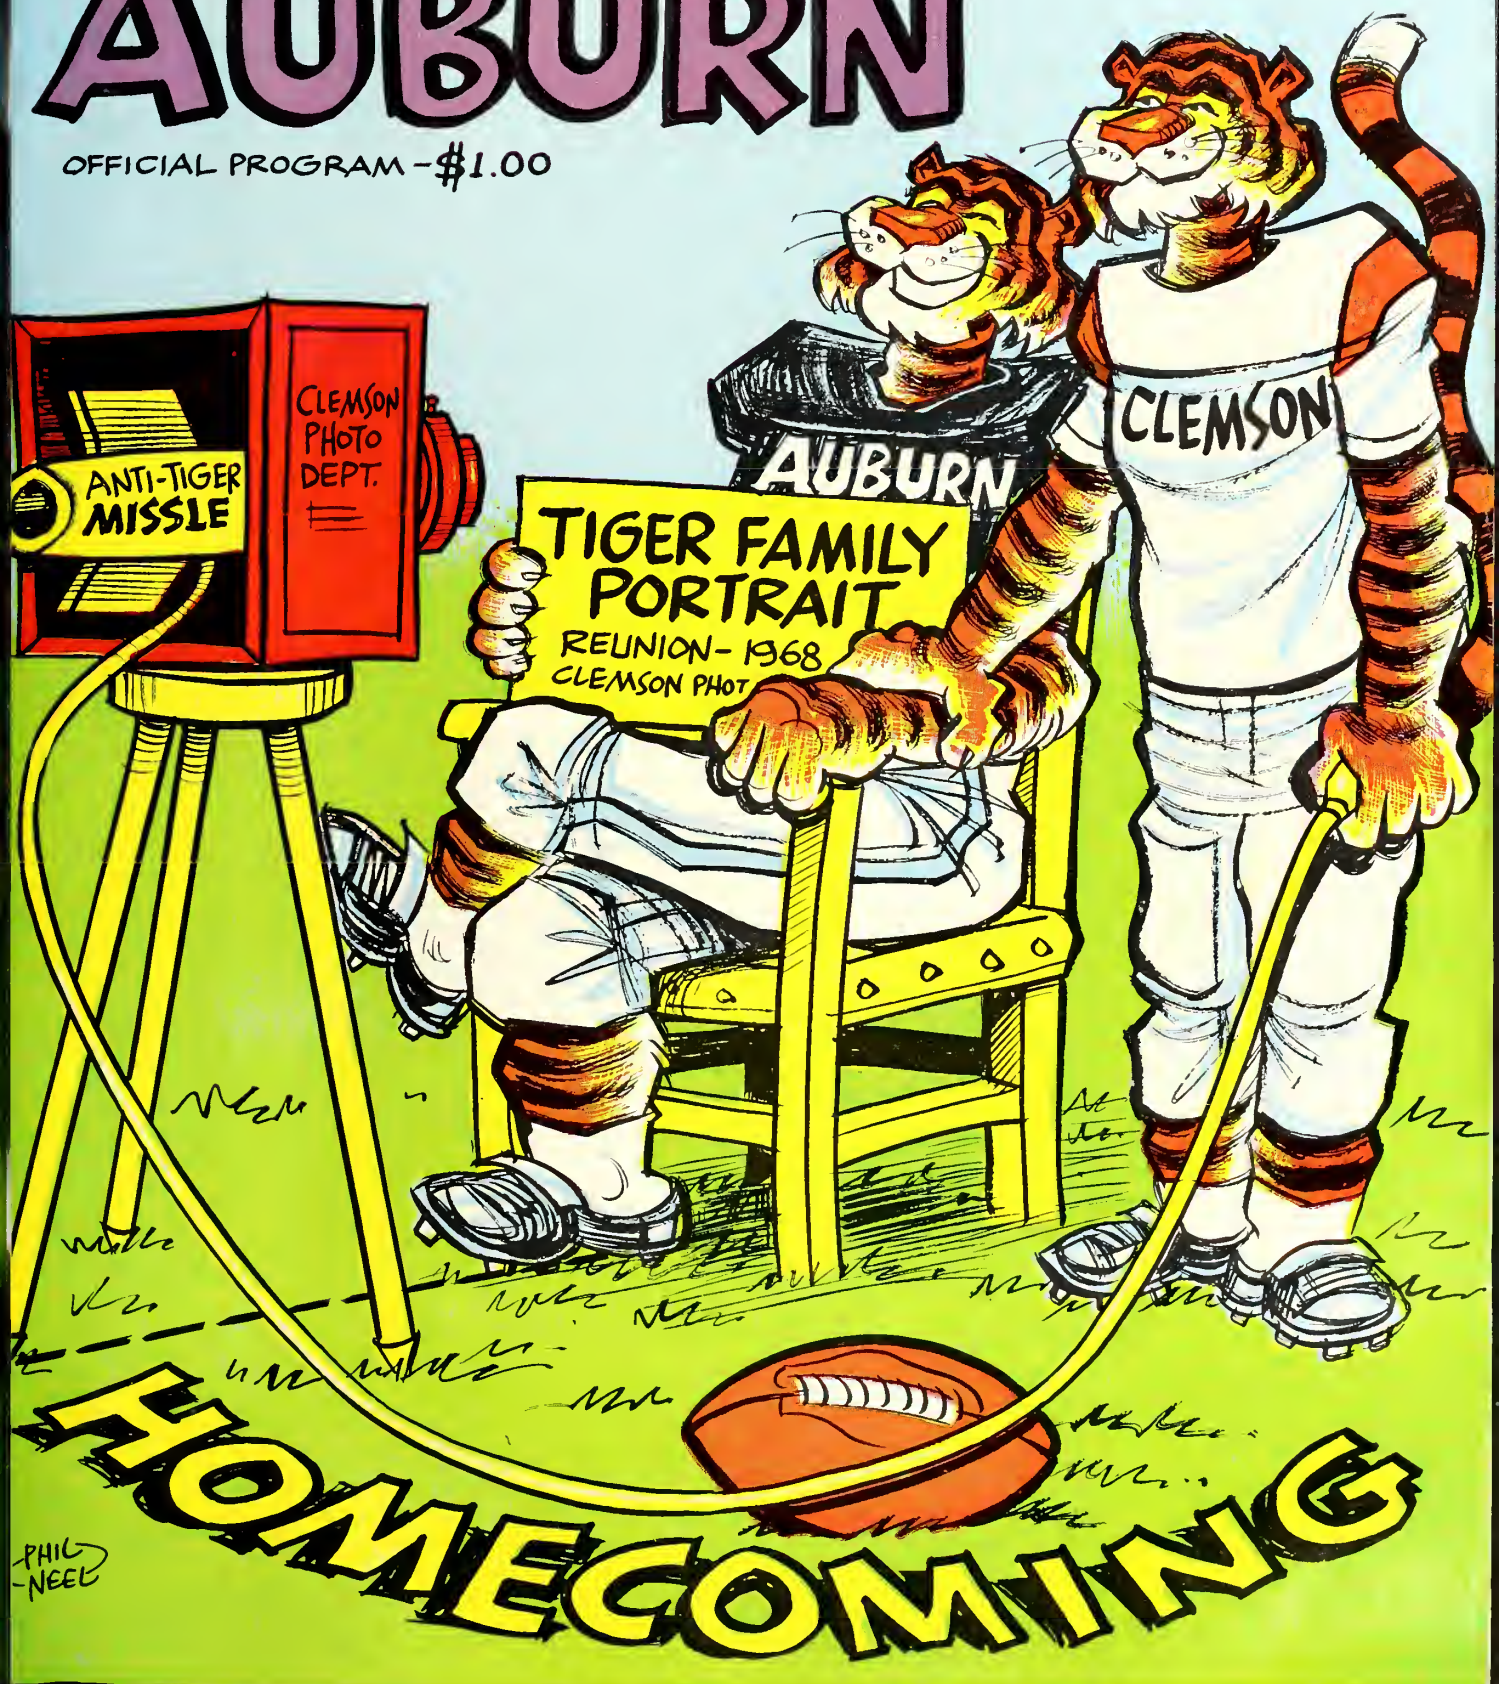
CLEMSON AUBURN

CLEMSON MEMORIAL STADIUM OCT. 12, 1968

OFFICIAL PROGRAM - $1.00



Cheers.

To make your day, take yellow Elegante sheets by Stevens. Put them on your bed. Fold in a saffron Forstmann® thermal blanket. Then add Four Seasons towels. Mix well. Stevens serves these patterns in a wide range of colors. With softness in the blankets. Smoothness in the sheets. And loftiness in the towels. You'll like the way Stevens cheers up your bedroom. Your bath. And your day.

☐ Great opportunity. You earn a commission while you earn your college degree. Graduate—you start at the top. Fulfill your military obligation as an Army officer. With officer's pay. Officer's privileges.

☐ Great advantages. Employers prefer a college graduate with service as an officer. Pay more to get him. Because he's a trained, experienced leader. Can handle heavier responsibilities.

☐ Great success. From the 5% of college men who had ROTC training have come 24% of our state governors, 28% of executives earning $100,000 to $325,000 per year, 10% of Congress, 15% of our ambassadors.

☐ Great guys. ROTC men are campus leaders—in ROTC, athletics, extracurricular activities. And they do better scholastically than non-ROTC students.

☐ Great extras. $50 per month in junior and senior years. Scholarships for outstanding students. Free flight training at over 125 colleges. Extra social activities—military balls, honor societies, bands, rifle teams.

Any way you look at it, there's a lot more going for you when you're in ROTC.

Your future, your decision . . .

Welcome to Clemson

We at Clemson University are delighted to have each of you on our campus today.

This is an exciting period in the growth of the University, now in its 76th year as an academic institution. Our policy now—as it was when the University opened on July 6, 1893—is that Clemson remain the greatest single influence in South Carolina on the combined educational, cultural, agricultural, industrial and economic development of our state.

Clemson is deeply involved in all activities and is sincerely committed to the attitudes that make a true University. We are engaged in teaching undergraduate men and women, and graduate students, in many fields leading to the bachelor's, master's and doctor's degrees. We are engaged in research dedicated to the pursuit of truth and the advancement of science. We are engaged in public service for South Carolina and the nation.

And too, we are busily preparing for the future. Evidence of this concern is the multi-million-dollar J. C. Littlejohn Coliseum adjacent to this stadium. The magnificent coliseum and seven other new buildings completed or under construction represent the initial investment of a dynamic building program that will total $60 million by 1975. As we look to the next decade, it is extremely important that we prepare our young men and women to meet the challenges they will face.

Please come back often and give us a chance to show you Clemson University at work for education of the highest quality.

Howard Now Football Dean

Coach Frank Howard has now taken over as dean of American football coaches, not only from the point of service at one school, but also in the number of years as a head coach.

With the retirement of Warren Woodson at New Mexico State after the '67 season, this left Howard in the driver's seat for all the chips.

Howard is one of four active coaches to have won 150 or more games during his career and he has out lasted 47 other head coaches in the Atlantic Coast Conference since taking over the Tigers in 1940.

Clemson has won five outright ACC titles under Howard and has shared another. In the 15-year history of the conference, the Tigers have posted a 59-26-2 against family competition and own an 89-56-8 overall mark. In all-time play against ACC teams, Clemson has posted a 120-65-5 record.

The Century Club . . .

Coach Frank Howard of Clemson has now taken over as dean of American football coaches, having had more years as a head coach at a major football institution (as classified by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau) as well as having the longest tenure in the nation.

Howard is one of 12 active coaches who has won over 100 games and is one of four to have won 150 or more games. Others in this category are Bear Bryant at Alabama, Johnny Vaught at Mississippi and Clarence Stasavich at East Carolina.

Darrell Royal of Texas joined the "Century Club" last year and now has 105 wins while Warren Woodson at New Mexico State and Buff Donelli of Columbia retired from coaching.

CLEMSON:

A Growing University

HIGH-RISE RESIDENCE HALL ON EAST CAMPUS

Clemson University has served the educational, research and cultural needs of the state and its people since it was founded in 1889, the result of a bequest to the state by Thomas G. Clemson, first U.S. Commissioner of Agriculture.

Since its opening on July 7, 1893 with a faculty of 15, a student body of 446, and a physical plant of four red brick buildings, Clemson has remained dedicated to its primary goal of serving the educational needs of the individual student.

Once an all-male institution, the doors were opened to women students in 1955 when the military status was dropped. On July 1, 1964, Clemson Agricultural College officially became Clemson University.

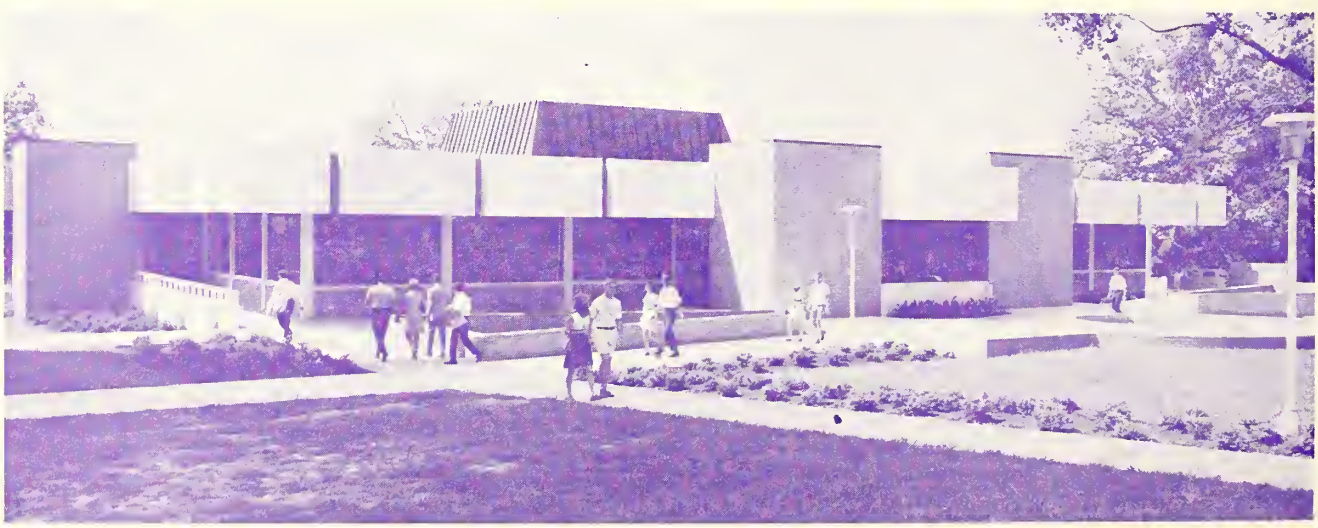
This year, a record 6,838 students are enrolled on the main campus and at two-year centers in Greenville and Sumter. Ninety per cent of these students graduated in the top half of their high school classes. In the past 10 years the faculty has more than doubled. Almost 70 per cent of the University's 470 faculty members hold terminal degrees in their specialities.

Clemson places academic stress on curricula designed for a quality education, and pursues a continuing policy of curricula evaluation to keep pace with the changing needs of industry, science and business.

In little more than a decade, Clemson has added more than $45 million to teaching and research facilities. The Robert Muldrow Cooper Library is the center of student and faculty study and research, and is also the permanent home of papers and souvenirs of the Honorable James F. Byrnes.

An additional $60 million of construction to meet the needs of a 10,000 student body by 1975 is well under way. Already completed on East Campus are two high-rise residence halls, an additional cafeteria, and a student health center. The J. C. Littlejohn Coliseum will soon open. Two additional buildings will be completed in early 1969: the D. W. Daniel Arts and Science Classroom Building and the Rhodes Graduate Engineering Research Building.

The Clemson administration under Dr. Robert C. Edwards emphasizes the importance of scholarship and excellence in education and at the same time is devoted to advancing Clemson as the leading force for the educational, industrial, business and cultural development of its state.



SCHILLETTER HALLS, A $1.1-MILLION DINING FACILITY, SERVES STUDENTS LIVING IN THE GROWING EAST CAMPUS AREA.

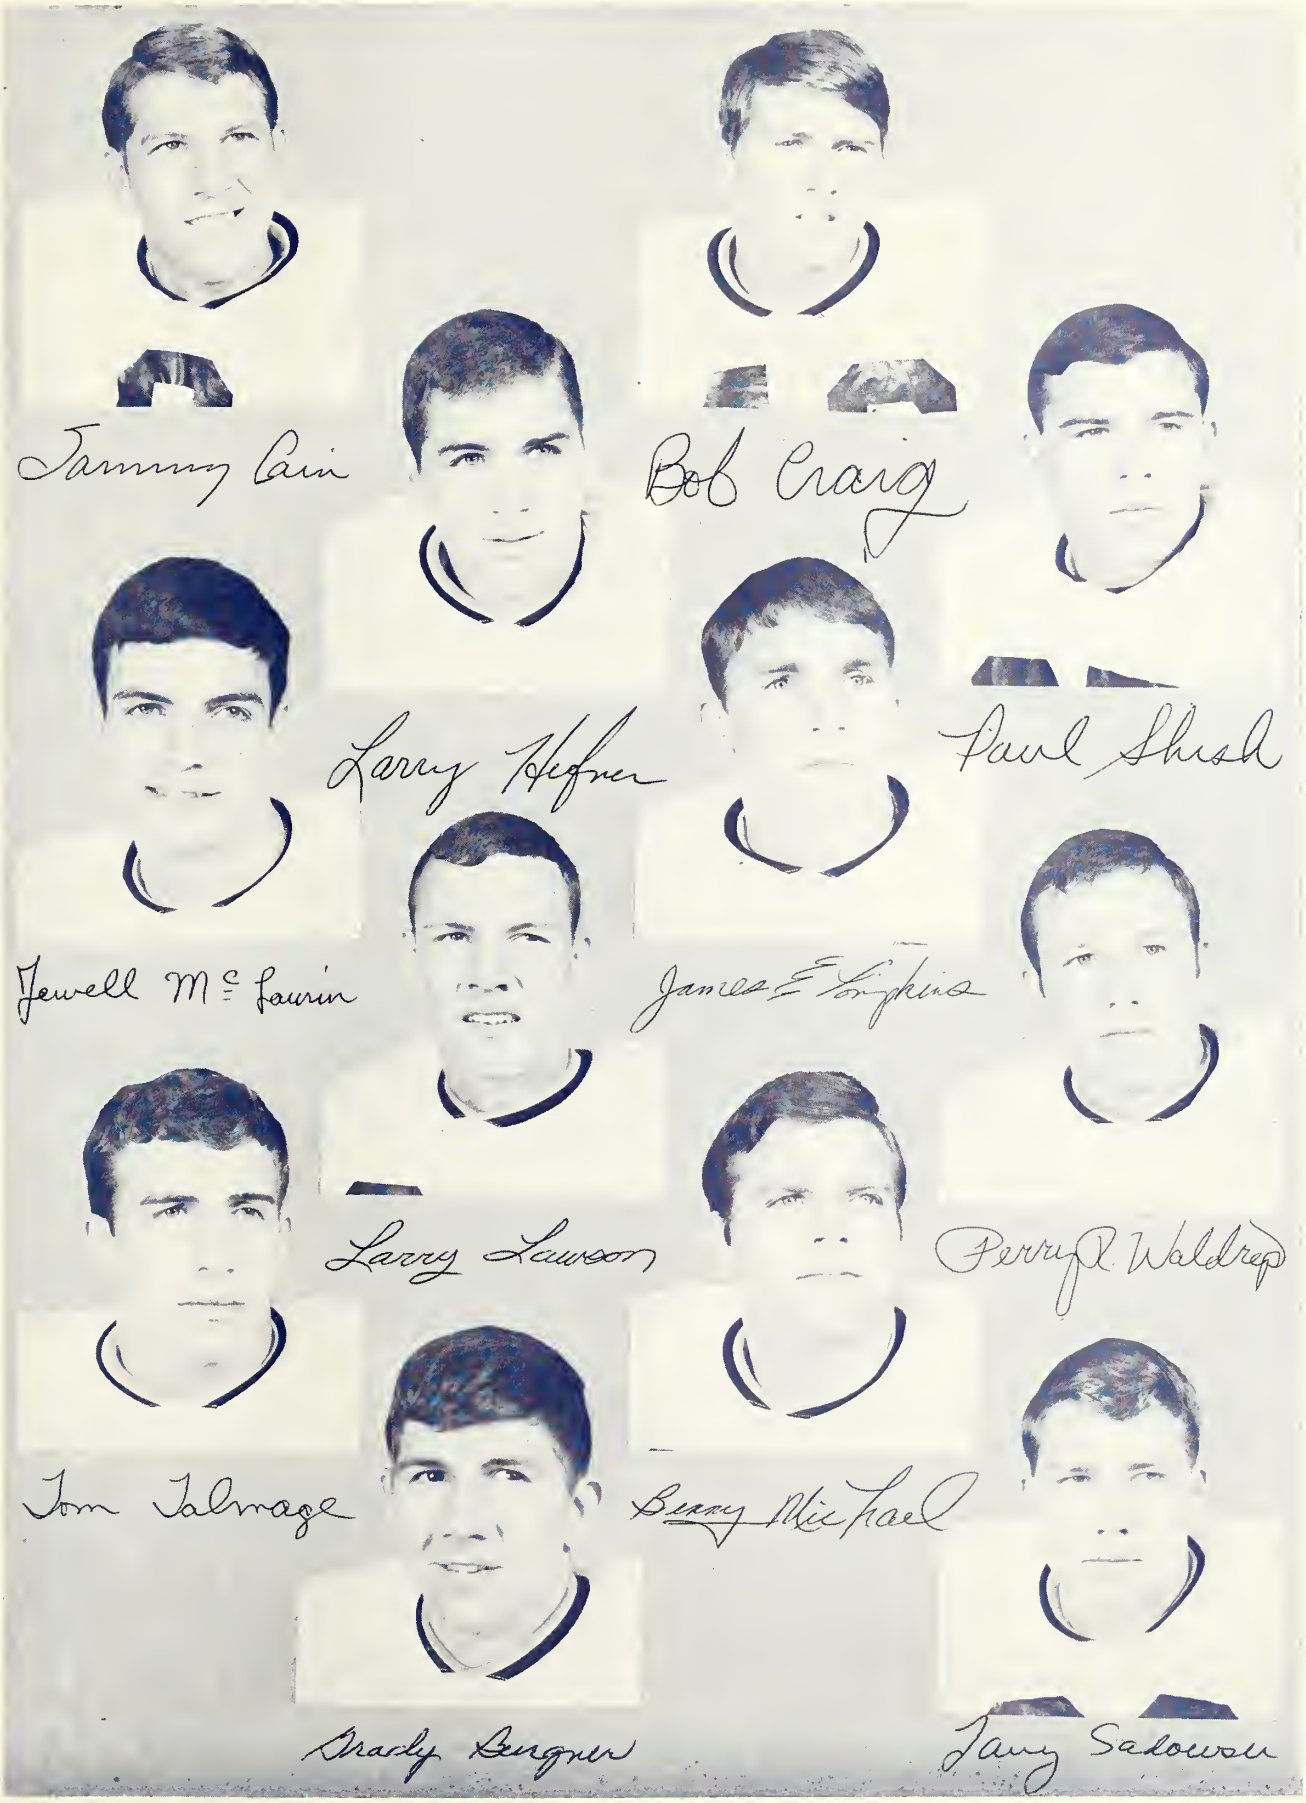
HEADQUARTERS FOR THE TIGERS IN THE PEE DEE



1968 CLEMSON UNIVERSITY TIGERS

Death Valley Record . . .

In the past 26 seasons, 23 teams have made appearances in Clemson Memorial Stadium, now pretty widely known as "Death Valley." Only five teams (George Washington, Villanova, Maryland, Alabama and Georgia) have an edge on the Tigers' home ground and three of these (GW, Villanova and Alabama) have just played one game in Memorial Stadium. Below is a season-by-season rundown of Clemson's record at home since the stadium was built and used for the first time in 1942.

1942	Clemson 32	Presbyterian 13	Won by 19

ADDITIONAL FACTS

Clemson's longest winning streak at home is 10 games and occurred during the 1949-50-51 seasons. A nine game skein came during the 1957-58-59 seasons. The Tigers have lost three in a row at home once (1962).

Clemson has shutout opponents 26 times in "Death Valley." (Presbyterian 9 times; N. C. State 4; Furman, Duquesne and Wake Forest, twice each; and VPI, Auburn, Citadel, Virginia, Duke, North Carolina and Texas Christian, once each). The Tigers have been shutout five times at home in 24 seasons. Between the Maryland whitewash in 1953 and the Duke blanking in 1962, the Tigers scored in 38 consecutive home games.

There is absolutely no solution to the water pollution problem

modernized disposal methods of sewage & industrial wastes

In Colonial days our streams were able to carry off the waste created by the small population. Over the years, the streams fought a losing battle; today they are overwhelmed. They just can't handle the great amount of waste dumped in by cities and industry.

The only way to correct this situation is through the proper disposal of sewage and industrial wastes. Realizing this great need, Pomona Pipe Products has broadened its services in the sanitation field.

In addition to the sanitary sewer pipe which we have been selling for generations, we now carry a complete line of other sanitation equipment, such as sewage pumping stations, treatment plants, chlorination equipment, etc. Our technical staff is ready to help with all phases of sanitation planning, including financing and federal programs. We welcome an opportunity to be of assistance on any problem which you may have regarding waste disposal.

The Auburn Series

Two old sets of Tigers growl at each other this afternoon, but that's nothing new. The feud between Auburn and Clemson started back before the turn of the century.

The first game was in 1899, which Auburn won, 34-0, and then Clemson recorded a 16-0 whitewash three years later.

The two teams haven't played each other consistently, even though today is the 41st game between the two land-grant universities.

Clemson and Auburn met for seven straight years from 1923 through 1929, but then there was a break until 1940. An eight-year stretch was recorded from 1910 through 1917 and it was during this period that Clemson scored only six points while Auburn was piling on 171.

The longest consecutive skein put together by the two teams was from 1946 through 1955, a 10-year period when Clemson won five, Auburn four and one game ended in a 20-20 tie. The only other deadlock in the series was a scoreless struggle in 1923.

But it's highly doubtful that either goal line will fail to be crossed today because in the last six games against each other Clemson has scored 74 points while Auburn has racked up 177.

Last season's 43-21 win by the War Eagles tied the most points for any game in the series. There were also 64 points scored in 1953 when the Plainsmen won, 45-19.

Many of the players from both teams who ran up an amazing 832 yards of total offense in last year's game are back for another stab this time.

Loran Carter, who led the Southeastern Conference in total offense in '67, connected on 10 of 18 passes on Clemson for 195 yards and one TD. Big Tim Christian caught the scoring pass, but the leading pass receiver was tailback Dwight Hurston with four catches for 64 yards.

Clemson's Buddy Gore collected 87 yards on 14 attempts and Billy Ammons came in after Jimmy Addison's injury and had six completions for 56 yards.

It is said that because three of Clemson's first four football coaches came from Auburn, Clemson is called Tigers. And if this be the case, maybe Clemson and Auburn are cousins of a sort.

However, when these two get together, there is little love lost between the two, so don't be surprised if that record point total of 64 points of last year is surpassed today.

ACC Comments: The Best ACC Player I've Faced.

And who knows better than the players . . .

JOHN CAGLE, Clemson Defensive Tackle: This No. 63 (Chuck Tine) of Maryland was the hardest for me to handle last year, and even after we figured out what they were doing, we still had a difficult time geting to the ball carrier. Maryland was splitting its line more than usual and was running a cross block with the tackle and guard. At first, it looked like a pull and they got a pretty good drive going on us early in the game. Frankly, it had us buffaloed and I came out of the game to get some more information. I would get into the backfield all right, but about the time I thought I was ready to make the tackle, I would be blocked by Tine. People say that Maryland didn't have a good ball club, but they were tough and so was Chuck Tine.

MIKE HILKA, N. C. State Linebacker: There is no question about the best ACC player I've faced. He is Harry Olszewski from Clemson. He was the biggest, strongest, fastest and best guard that I ever had to face. There are many good or great backs in the ACC but as everyone knows they could not go far without good blocking. This is one of the reasons why Clemson's backs were so effective. Whenever Harry would pull, trap or just fire out, he would be leading the play. I heard him apologize to one of his backs because a man tackled him that Harry might have had a chance to get. Olszewski set a fine example for linemen, with good leadership and sportsmanship. Harry was a TRUE ALL-AMERICAN.

GREG SHELLY, Virginia Offensive Tackle: The best ACC player I have faced was Bob Matheson of Duke University.
I was playing the guard position my sophomore year when the Cavaliers faced the Blue Devils at Durham. It was a rainy day and my job on most of the running plays was to block Matheson, who was playing his usual linebacking position. Matheson was 6' 3" and weighed 245 pounds. He was the biggest, strongest and fastest linebacker I have ever tried to block. On most of the running plays I had a straight ahead block on him. He was so strong and quick that he kept throwing me off and I never really got a good block on him. Matheson was a great one.

JOHN McQUEENEY, Wake Forest Guard: Selecting the best ACC player I've faced the past two years at Wake Forest is a rather difficult assignment. There have been quite a few, but the ones that stick foremost in my mind are quarterback Bob Davis of Virginia, Harry Olszewski and Buddy Gore of Clemson. It's pretty tough to choose between these, but if I'm forced to name one it will have to be Davis. I only played against him once since he was a senior my sophomore year. On one particular play, I thought I had him trapped for a sizeable loss but he threw the ball underhanded and completed it for a gain. As I recall, Davis accounted for something like 239 yards of 322 the Cavaliers gained during the afternoon. I'm happy I didn't have to face him again.

GEORGE JOSEPH, Duke Defensive End: "The best ACC player I have faced is Dick Wesolowski of North Carolina. Dick played fullback in 1966, then moved to wingback last fall. He can do everything well, run, block and catch passes. As a runner he goes at top speed right away and is the kind of back it hurts to tackle. As a blocker, he does not hesitate to unload on a crashing end with either a shoulder block or a cross body. He seems to be a very dedicated player who never lets down. At least I have never had occasion to see him do anything but go all out."

BILL LOVETT, Maryland Fullback: There have been many excellent defensive football players in the Atlantic Coast Conference in the past few years. But if I was to single out one man in the conference as the best player I've faced, Bob Matheson of Duke University would be my choice. His superior play in the Maryland-Duke game of 1966 made every observer in the stadium recognize him as a truly great athlete. He had size, quickness and he was a great competitor. He was a true All-American.

PETER DAVIS, North Carolina End: It is really difficult to pick the best ACC player I have faced. N. C. State had a very tough unit and Duke hit very hard, but the best individual I have had to face was Frank Liberatore of Clemson.
Liberatore was very strong with a tremendous quickness for his size. He intercepted a pass for me which I could not believe even after I saw the films. It was a down and out pattern. I faked in with what I thought was my best fake of the day. I thought Liberatore was back on his heels. The pass was just a bit behind me and somehow Liberatore stepped in and picked it off and advanced it ten yards before I made the tackle.
I certainly won't mind not playing against him this season.

DAVE LUCAS, South Carolina End: When first asked this question, I tried to think of an offensive tackle because as a defensive end I am usually blocked by a tackle. However, the more I thought, the more I was convinced that halfback Frank Quayle of Virginia was the best ACC football player I've played against. He was the spark of his team and a good blocker, too; and a great runner. Once I tackled him—or thought I had tackled him—at the 10 yard line and he went right through me and about three more of us to the two yard line to set up a touchdown. Then, later in the game he ran a kickoff back 90 yards. We were extremely lucky to come back and beat Virginia, 24-23, that night.

6,836 CLEMSON STUDENTS LEAD BUSY LIVES

The campus you visit today draws its strength and purpose from the 6,525 main-campus students who give Clemson University its reason for being. They, along with the 314 students attending two-year centers at Greenville and Sumter, form the real Clemson. In its eight colleges and schools, 5,809 undergraduate students are busily preparing themselves for the day they will shoulder the problems, challenges and responsibilities of the current "older generation." Complementing the campus' natural beauty are 930 women students pursuing careers in fields from nursing to chemical engineering. The college years — from the "A" of architecture to the "Z" in zoology — are a wonderful mixture of hard work, play, and growth to intellectual maturity while approaching the threshold of tomorrow's world.

HAVE YOU REALLY EVER THOUGHT ABOUT

Bob Hope was as right as rain when he said that our future depends not on Black Power, or White Power, or Green Power—but on Brain Power.

Clemson University is in the Brain Power business, and John Matthew, a 1967 Clemson graduate, now in the Vanderbilt University medical school, gave eloquent testimony to Clemson's worth recently. He said, "I find that Clemson prepared me as well as any members of my class here and many of them came from name-brand schools throughout the country."

Clemson must always be sure that Clemson graduates are fully equipped to stand beside graduates of other institutions and know that they have not been short-changed by a Clemson education.

This takes good buildings, good equipment, good faculty and staff—it takes constant re-evaluation and upgrading of curricula—programs—standards. It requires that Clemson be competitive in all areas of education—competitive in scholarship offerings—competitive in recruitment and retention of faculty and staff—competitive in buildings and equipment—competitive in library acquisitions—competitive in academic standards—competitive in student programs and activities—competitive in all ways that enable a good university to remain in the company of good universities.

How does this task relate to you as an alumnus or friend of Clemson?

Clemson pays dividends to its alumni body simply by continuing its vigorous existence. It is a point of reference for the alumnus, a firm and living entity which he knows is there, a place to be proud of, a place to belong to.

But Clemson is more than that. Clemson is an opportunity for today's youngsters—for America's most precious resource—to receive the educational training so invaluable to them as individuals and as productive citizens.

Clemson, in a nutshell, is South Carolina's greatest single asset to its overall educational, scientific, industrial, business, economic, cultural and recreational progress, and, as such, makes a proportionate contribution to our nation and world.

The task ahead for Clemson includes helping to develop a highly educated society which produces more, earns more and buys more; in . . . the task ahead for Clemson University and how YOU relate to this task and how it relates to YOU ?

providing the trained manpower the nation must have to operate modern, highly sophisticated business and governmental enterprises; in providing an intelligent electorate which values freedom and supports economic democracy as well as political democracy.

These are ways in which Clemson relates to you.

How can you relate to Clemson? By recognizing that Clemson is important to you, to your family, to your economy, to your future, to your society, you will want the pride and satisfaction that comes from being an active part of a vital mission.

Just as Clemson is committed to its task, so can you make a commitment to Clemson. Your original commitment might well be a positive decision that you are FOR Clemson, not indifferent to Clemson—that you will be Clemson in your community.

Then your commitment to Clemson might take many directions: you can encourage the better students of your area to pursue their educations at Clemson; you can further legislative support for important Clemson programs; you can encourage management of business and industry to make financial investments in Clemson's ability to serve educationally and in research areas. You can make your own personal financial investment in Clemson each year. You can, in the words of Tommy Thornhill '48:

"—think of what you can mean to Clemson. Think of what your commitment—personal and financial—to Clemson can mean to your sons and daughters, to unborn generations. Think with me for Clemson. Thought patterns of just a few men have freed millions, enslaved millions, established new nations, destroyed empires. Your thought patterns and what you do about them can commit this state to Clemson and Clemson to this state so that unheard of horizons will become but rungs on the ladder of progress. We are Clemson—may God give us the strength to wear our label proudly and help us light new lights in the bright future!"

We make it easier to fly.

We'll fly 23 million people this year. Our object is to make flying easier for every one of them.

1. We're making reservations even faster.
With the most sophisticated system in our industry.

It remembers the name, phone number and flight information on more than one million passengers.

2. We're eliminating the check-in line.
By taking your luggage and checking you aboard your flight at curbside.

3. We see that our jets are ready when you are.
By having skilled maintenance technicians who work through the night to have jets ready to fly in the morning.

4. We turn terminals into places to enjoy.
Visit any waiting area. You'll find comfortable seats in living-room-like settings.

Visit an Eastern Ionosphere Lounge. Here, first class passengers can enjoy the atmosphere of a private club.

5. We put you at ease in the air.
An Eastern stewardess knows more about making life easy for you than most people learn in a lifetime.

6. We make dining aloft a pleasure.
We're substituting our cooking for yours, so we try to offer something as good. We put fine restaurant cooking on selected Ionosphere flights, with an entree choice in both first class and coach.

7. We put a stopwatch on our baggage handlers.
If the clock shows too much time, we find the reason and correct it.

8. We have the finest jets.
With 166 now, and another 37 to be added this year. In the 1970's, the Lockheed 1011 and the supersonics will join this fleet. All piloted by seasoned professionals.

9. We have other people you'll never meet.
People who work out convenient schedules, vacation packages, low-priced fares and pay-as-you-go plans. All with one goal in mind: to make flying easier for you.

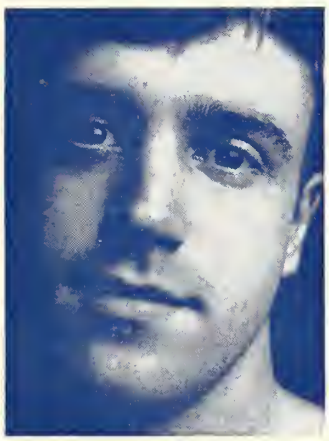
Break your beard in right.

Right now your beard is in the formative stage.

You can shave it with a razor blade like your father does. And each time you do your beard will grow back a little more difficult. Until one day shaving's no longer a chore. It's an agony.



Look no further than your father's face for proof.

But fortunately, you're catching your beard at an early age. You can break it in to be just as shaveable 10 and 20 years from now as it is today.

With a REMINGTON® shaver.

And if you think the kind of shave we're selling won't be close enough for you, you're wrong.

Our new blades are sharper than anything that's been in an electric shaver before. And there's a dial that lets you adjust them for your skin and beard.

What's more, you can dial a REMINGTON electric shaver into a sideburn trimmer.

Admittedly, it costs more to buy our electric shaver than a razor and some blades.

But it's a good investment.

These next few years will determine how you and your beard will get along for the rest of your lives.

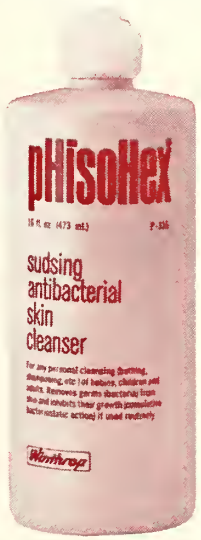
SELECTED BY THE U.S. OLYMPIC COMMITTEE

We're proud...

that pHisoHex® has been selected as the antibacterial wash to be used by the U.S. Team for the 1968 Olympic Games!



A winning athlete takes special care of his skin. Above all, he protects it against bacteria that can cause infections and lead to missed practice sessions and games.

If you've ever tried to play with an infected blister on your heel or an abscess on your finger, then you know the role of healthy skin in sports. And that's why pHisoHex is an important part of an athlete's daily health routine.

pHisoHex is America's leading liquid antibacterial skin cleanser in homes and in hospitals. Used regularly in place of soap, pHisoHex produces a superclean skin and builds up an invisible antibacterial film of hexachlorophene to protect your skin against germs between washings.

And if you have problem skin, pHisoHex is often valuable. The antibacterial film it leaves on your face will ward off blemish-infecting bacteria. pHisoHex also helps to soften and wash away blackheads.

Use pHisoHex, the skin cleanser of winning athletes.

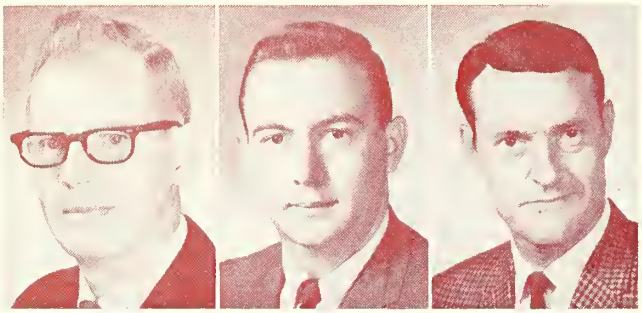
Ideal Photography Facilities . . .



Haralson Shockley Osteen

A photographer staffing a Clemson football game will find no better facilities anywhere than in the press box at Memorial Stadium.

Those who record the game in pictures are accorded everything needed to cover a major football attraction.

With chief photographer Charles Haralson and his assistants Tom Shockley and Bill Osteen on hand, equipment, space, chemicals and game action pictures are available to visiting photographers and sportswriters.

With the Communications Center now in its second year of operation, almost any request for film, video tape or stills can be filled during the week. Harry Durham and Jim Burns head up this operation and these two are ready and willing and on call seven days a week during football season.

A 27-foot open section right in the middle of the press box is reserved for visiting and home team movies during the game.

The covered top deck — sometimes referred to as "Top of the Valley" — has a two-fold purpose. The 35-yard front side facing the field is used by TV cameramen and still photographers with an unhindered vantage point for shooting from top side.

The back side of the upper deck is where the famed buffet dinner is served to all those with working press passes. Tables and benches are furnished and many a yarn is swapped here before game time.

Within the press box is a complete dark room where film can be loaded, processed and wire photos transmitted during the game.

Clemson photographers take color movies used on the Frank Howard Show each Sunday and black and white movies are taken for Clemson coaches and Tiger opponents.

Game action stills are also taken and furnished to any news media desiring a set through the use of a Fotorite machine, a rapid print processing. This machine is the only one in use in the Atlantic Coast Conference and one of the few in the nation so used.

During the past six seasons, nearly 2,500 photos have been given free to the press by this process.

Clemson Radio Network . . .

Phillips

Buchanan

The 1968 season finds the Clemson Football Network in its 15th year and again, it will be one of the largest university-operated networks in the nation.

During 1967 the network averaged over 53 stations a game, which was an all-time high.

The network will have a new team this fall handling the play-by-play and color.

Jim Phillips, who succeeded Bill Goodrich in the capacity of sports director of WFBC Radio and TV in Greenville, will handle the play-by-play for the first time. The color man will be Bruce Buchanan, also of the WFBC staff. Buchanan replaces Jim Kingman.

The Clemson network is operated wholly by the athletic department and has been one of the most successful anywhere. The network has averaged slightly over 50 stations a game for the past seven seasons.

Phillips came to WFBC from his native Ohio with 15 years of broadcasting experience behind him. His first eight years were spent in all phases of radio and television announcing and production. The last seven have been in program and sports directing.

Phillips' affiliations have been with WATG, Ashland, WFAH, Alliance and WIMA, Lima, all in Ohio. He came to WFBC from WFAH where he had been program and sports director since 1961.

He has had seven years of radio play-by-play, doing both high school and college games in football and basketball. His last collegiate assignment before coming to WFBC was play-by-play reporter for the Kent State University Sports Network.

Buchanan, who is general manager of WFBC Radio, is well known in sports broadcasting circles throughout the Carolinas, having done a variety of high school sports for many years.

He has been closely associated with Clemson athletics over the past 15 years.

With Phillips and Buchanan working closely together at WFBC during the week, they can be expected to give the Clemson Network listeners a picture commentary of action taking place on the field each Saturday.
